Red Cross Aids Family Made Homeless By Fire

The Bristol Red Cross Disaster Committee, headed by Harold Ferguson, was called yesterday afternoon to give aid to the family of Mrs. Bertha Howard, 1012 Court G, Bristol Terrace II, Bristol Township, after fire had put the family out of a home and destroyed their clothing and household furniture. Mrs. Indiana Gillis and family, also lived at the address.

Fire was discovered at the Howard home shortly after noon and the flames gutted the residence. The family was given temporary shelter by a neighbor, Mrs. Jackson.

The origin of the fire is undetermined, according to Edgely Fire Chief, John Doster.

Mrs. Howard, whose husband died December 17, last year, is the mother of four children, one being in Abington Hospital with pneumonia.

Mr. Ferguson and his committee provided clothing, groceries and other essentials for the family. The Federal Housing Administrator, will provide another house for the family to move into.

A brother of Mrs. Howard arrived after the fire from duty with the U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Howard was enroute to a store when the fire started and a child ran to her on the street advising her of the blaze.

Firemen from Bristol Township and Bristol Borough fought the flames. Chief Doster estimates the loss at $1800 damage to contents and building. Bristol Township Fire Marshal William Sutton investigated.

Floyd was held in Bristol municipal jail until authorities from Byberry came to get him.

Officer McClery, of the school police, called Seader's attention to the escaped patient, as the police chief drove past Croydon School. Seader said Floyd was dressed in a thin, pair of trousers, a sweater but no undershirt, and laceless shoes without stockings.

The three youths, one 14-year old, and two 15-year-olds were in the car at the time said Rentz.

Pig Farmers Must Mend Their Fences

Pigs Must Be Kept at the Homes of Their Owners, Says the Court

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 31 — Two Springfield township pig farmers, Earl Pfeiffer, 18, and his brother, William, 22, Coopersburg, RD 1, were told by President Judge Hiram H. Keller to mend their fences and keep their pigs at home or else the Sheriff will do something about it.

Pleading guilty to public nuisance because their 150 or 200 pigs have been roaming over adjacent farmlands, the two brothers, Future Farmers of America, were directed to pay the costs of prosecution and placed on probation.

They were given 60 days to build better fences, dig new postholes and keep their fancy, red prize-winning Durocs at home. A Springfield township road supervisor, Raymond Fluck, complained that he saw 10 pigs on the road at one time.

John Dieterly, another neighbor, said 68 pigs came to visit his farmlands.

Ether Swartz, another neighbor, said one and one-half acres of wheat, hay and vegetables were destroyed by the pigs. Paul Imhof complained about corn being damaged. Ernest Gerhart also complained.

William L. Goldman, Doylestown attorney, who represented the two brothers-defendants, quoted from an old law in which he argued to President Judge Keller that a "pig's life is open to assault and that pigs form the tables for the Commonwealth."

"I know pigs are hard to handle but that is your problem and your pigs must be restrained and kept from annoying everyone, including neighbors and persons who use the highways," said the Court.

"You boys had better pen your hogs up and keep them penned up or the Sheriff will do something about the situation and you will not like it nor will the pigs," said President Judge Keller, who gave them 60 days to abate the nuisance. Probation Officer Horace E. Gwinner will aid the two young men.

New Autos Shown

Studebaker Unveils New Line of Cars

For the second time since World War II The Studebaker Corporation has unveiled a line of passenger cars that promises to set the pace in future design for the automobile industry, says Torano, local Studebaker dealers.

The new models—Studebaker's 1953 Centennial line—are as exciting as were the style leaders which the company introduced in 1946 when it led the industry in producing a brand new post-war car. With their Continental sweep and contours they may well become ranked among the most distinctive cars ever built by an American manufacturer.

Designed by internationally-famous Raymond Loewy, Studebaker's 1953 cars break as sharply with American contemporary design as did their predecessors immediately after the war. Although they reflect to some extent the influence of European styling, they retain the comfort, stamina, and

Foil Hold-up Attempt On Buckley Street

An attempted hold-up, near Race and Buckley streets, about nine o'clock last evening, was foiled, according to Police Chief Linford J. Jones, when the victim of the attempt ran from a man who had stuck a gun in his ribs.

George Wilson, 25, of 619 Race street, was walking down to the Mill street shopping section, said Chief Jones, and as he neared the intersection of Race and Buckley streets a man stepped out of the shadows and asked him for his wallet.

Wilson refused to give up his wallet, said Jones. The man then pulled a pistol from his pocket, related Chief Jones, and stuck it into Wilson's ribs. Wilson turned and ran, says the chief.

Jones states that a short while before Wilson reported the attempted hold-up, Fourth Ward Councilman Dennis Roche, who operates a grocery store at 217 Buckley street, advised him that an unidentified man had run past his grocery store and had shouted to him that someone had tried to hold him up.

Chief Jones ordered all police out to search the area and says that Wilson furnished a good description of the suspect. Police are anxious to learn the identity of the man who sped past Roche's store and called out that an attempt had been made to hold him up.

---NEWS BRIEFS---

Prospects for Legislative Spurt Dim

Harrisburg—General Assemblymen will return to the State Capitol Monday afternoon but their work agenda will be light, and prospects for a legislative spurt are dim until the 1953-55 tax program is put together.

The Senate is scheduled to meet at four p. m. and the house a half hour later.

Governor Fine apparently does not anticipate acceleration of legislative business until early March because he expects tax conferences to hold much of his attention during the next four to six weeks.

Fine is looking to the Republican bloc in the GOP-controlled House where all revenue-raising bills constitutionally must originate to shape a tax program since he refused to specify levies in his biennial budget message.

The opinion of House leaders has not crystallized around a definite tax program because of the absence of a report of a special tax study committee named by the governor last summer.

180 Ordered to Abandon Ship

Stranraer, Scotland—The captain of the Irish sea ferry ship "Princess Victoria" ordered its 180 passengers and crewmen today to abandon ship when the vessel turned on its side in a gale. The ship was reported sinking and its occupants were said to have taken to life rafts and boats. The harbor master said he received a message from Capt. James Ferguson of the Princess Victoria saying the situation was critical.

Pound Communist Installations

Seoul—Allied war machines from land, sea and air today pounded Communist installations across the North Korean peninsula. Eleven U. S. B-29 Superforts roared through Red fighter formations to level a Communist supply base near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang erupting in a 1500-foot spiral of smoke and flames. On the east the giant U. S. battleship Missouri led an ice-covered sea force on a potent naval and aerial raid on the port city of Wonsan. The mighty Mo, attacking with destroyers and carrier planes began the assault at sunrise and reported no answering fire. Meanwhile on the ground, American Patton tanks kept up the steady barrage against Communist positions on the central front.

Special Events Director Of Radio Station Speaks

George Lord, Phila., Appears Before Members of The Travel Club

Appearing as guest speaker before Travel Club members yesterday was George Lord, Philadelphia, special events director of a radio station, former newspaper man, and one-time combat reporter with the U. S. Marine Corps.

After discussing briefly the prime functions of a reporter, and the "double life" lead by a newspaper man, Mr. Lord went on to speak of the work of a commentator, finally launching into the part played by women in affairs of the world.

Harking back to his reporting days, Mr. Lord reminded that "responsibility is the prime function of a reporter," he then telling of the duty of reporters in "educating people as to what is taking place in the world." Necessitating honesty and conscientiousness in reporting, were stressed. The "double life" led by newspapermen, referred to by the guest, was explained as not being a "cinematic nature." "But whether it be the story of a political candidate or some other subject, we have our own opinions which we dare not express in a news story. One's own personal opinion cannot enter into it. And it is difficult to keep one's opinion out of the matter, especially when that opinion happens to be strong on some question."

Mr. Lord, in telling of the work of a radio commentator, said, "A commentator cannot please everybody. A commentator is not supposed to please everybody. His job is to provoke discussion and to stimulate thought."

In mentioning how years were required to develop new service to what it is today, with reporters in every part of the world, the guest stated, "The press is everywhere. It walks into the offices of statesmen, and onto the battlefields." The comment was made that "the press is in Washington right now, keeping a very close watch on the new administration."

Then turning his attention to the women and the part they play throughout the world, Mr. Lord brought smiles to the audience with this love: "As for the ladies, Lord love 'em, and he does." The position taken by women in world affairs during the past several years was considered, the group being reminded that in Pennsylvania there are 30 women on the Republican state committee. He took time to cite some interesting and amusing experiences at the national Republican convention, and the position the wife of the president of the United States must assume and her responsibilities.

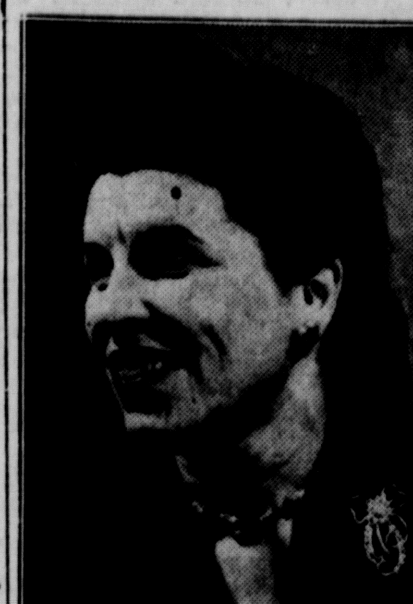

There were listed by the guest several outstanding women he has met, he nominating Madam Pandit, "as possibly the most brilliant." Dubbed the "most charming" was Eleanor Roosevelt. Mr. Lord expressed his delight with Emma Guffey Miller, now in her 80's, not only because of her alertness of mind, but because she is "able to laugh at herself." He added, "Women played part in the first telephone exchange, in New Haven, Conn., as it was wire from a lady's bustle which was used in the first exchange." He said "women react to situations with more sensitivity and understanding than men do."

The club members took advantage of questioning the speaker on various phases of broadcasting, and were extremely interested in his account of broadcasts over "Radio Free Europe" and "Voice of America." He told how such broadcasts are "stirring up a lot of trouble behind the Iron Curtain." Regarding current affairs the

Police Discuss Youths Buying and Driving Cars

Consider Problem A Serious One On The County Highways

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 31 — Bucks county police last evening at a dinner meeting of the Bucks County Police Association here discussed the problems of juveniles buying cars, paying cash for them, and operating jalopies on the highways without responsibility either criminal or civil hanging over them.

Chief Robert Watson, Lower Makefield twp., commenting on the tragedy of a 20-year-old Yardley man whose car killed a 10-year-old school boy because it had "absolutely no brakes" aroused the policemen.

The car which Edward J. Redding, 20, Yardley, was driving when he couldn't stop in time was owned by a 17-year-old youth. The minor-owner bought it in New Jersey. He paid $64 for it, in two payments, so that will give you some idea of its condition.

"It was a 1936 model, had no inspection sticker and no policeman ever saw it being operated on the highway prior to the tragedy. I think we ought to be able to hold the owner of that car criminally responsible but I don't know of any law, or legislation, which will permit it," said Chief Watson. "I don't know whether he can be sued in civil court or not but then what damages can you get out of two minors, the driver, and owner of the car."

Former County Fire Marshall and former County Detective William L. Stackerhouse, Doylestown, suggested that the police discuss the menace of minors buying and operating jalopies on the highways which aren't safe.

Constable Clarence K. Wenhold, Quakertown, presided at the dinner meeting which was attended by 39 men, including justices of the peace. The dinner was held at the Farm House here with a delicious chicken dinner being served with Constable C. Clifford Beck as host. Chief of Police William D. Hamersmiedt, Sellersville, resigned as chairman of the Tabor Home Christmas party, police radio, ladies' night and police school committees.

A delightfully appreciative thank you note was read from Sister Wilma Loehrig, of the Tabor Home

Cornwells Heights Man Convicted On Burglary Charge

Milton, Garrison, 32, to Serve Term in Eastern Penitentiary

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 31—Milton Garrison, 32, Cornwells Heights, who has appeared in the Bucks County Criminal Court since 1947 at least 10 times, was sentenced by Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite yesterday to serve not less than two nor more than four years in the Eastern State Penitentiary. He was also directed to pay a $5 fine and the costs of prosecution.

"We are glad you were not taken in by the glib story this man told," said Judge Satterthwaite, lauding the jury which convicted the former Bristol and Croydon resident. Garrison was convicted of burglary by the jury which returned a sealed verdict. Mrs. Lillian Marks, Newportville housewife, testified he was the man she saw coming out of her son's bedroom and into the hallway of her home about 12:30 at night Dec. 20, 1952. He fled through a window in her 13-year-old son's bedroom, breaking the windowpane and knocking over two flower pots which crashed on the floor.

"You, Garrison, are beyond any assistance this Court can give you," said Judge Satterthwaite who indicated that any lecture or tirade would be futile.

Garrison, according to District Attorney Willard S. Curtin, appeared in criminal court here in May, 1947; Dec., 1949; Dec., 1946; May, 1950; Dec., 1950; 1951 and 1952. He served his longest prison term in the County Prison for having grabbed a Doylestown housewife while she was waiting on her North Main street front porch for her husband to pick her up in the car. He was also involved in alleged misconduct in a Doylestown rooming house.

"It was an intelligent, discerning decision the jury made which knew nothing of the defendant's former criminal record because under the law it could not be presented to them," said Judge Satterthwaite.

George James Mager, 36, 2536 South 62nd street, Phila., formerly of Hulmeville, escaped being sent to prison yesterday because his wife is in an oxygen tent in a Philadelphia hospital because of a heart attack and President Judge Hiram H. Keller admonished Mager by saying "If your wife weren't as ill as she is you would go to jail which you deserve."

Mager pleaded guilty to forging a check for $89.52 which he cashed at the Pennell store of John McCarthy July 17, 1946. A prison sentence of nine months was suspended on condition that the defendant, the father of two children, pay $89.52 back to the Pennell merchant.

MAIL DELIVERY

Postmaster General Arthur S.
Summerfield has promised to try to restore twice-daily mail deliveries and Representative Canfield, chairman of the House appropriations subcommittee handling the Post Office budget, says his group will look into the matter. Mr.
Canfield was one of those who criticized abandonment of twice-daily deliveries in 1950.

Estimates of the cost of the restoration range from $100,000 to $150,000 a year, but it is difficult to see how that much money has been saved by delivering mail only once a day. Certainly there was no reduction in the postal force.

There are other phases of the postal service which also need improvement. There is widespread criticism of delays in handling mail between cities, for example.
Another complaint is that special delivery mail moves too slowly.
These and other shortcomings may be corrected as a result of a survey already begun by the new administration.

But the one-day delivery service is a constant reminder to the public of the general shortcomings of the postal service. For that reason the first move of the new postmaster general may be to order restoration of twice-daily service. Such a move would be a welcome reminder to the public that the new head of the postal service is not satisfied with things as he found them.

DROP IN MEAT PRICES

It's come to pass, though most housewives were skeptical when the American Meat Institute promised last October that a lower price level for beefsteak, lamb chops and other meat products would prevail early this year. Not so long ago fancy porterhouse steak was selling in some markets at $1.25 a pound. But naturally a price of $1 seems high to those who can remember when they paid 40 cents.

These days the food buyer is grateful for any easing on the pocketbook, but there is no mystery as to why meat is cheaper.
Meat is plentiful. Cattle slaughtered in the first half of January was 20 per cent above the same period a year ago, and storage stocks are millions of pounds higher. Production for 1953 is expected to provide 145 pounds a person compared to per capita consumption in 1951 of 138 pounds.

Of course, if the population should get such a yen for beef-steak and lamb chops as to greatly increase the total demand, prices would rise again. The decision rests largely with the housewife.

Jesus Christ The Resurrection.

(St. John 11:20-26)
Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met Him; but Mary sat still in the house.

Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if Thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. But I know, that even now, whatsoever Thou wilt ask of God, God will give it Thee.

Jesus said unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

Martha saith unto Him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life, he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believeth thou this?

I hope the new administration will realize it and do something very quickly to overcome it." He reminded that "a war does not have to be a military one to be a war," he enlarging on this by telling of the devastating effect in so many countries of Soviet propaganda. He listed the term "cold war" as a bad one. "It is really very 'Hot'."

Gargoyle Decorates Roof Of Levittown Archeologists

Is One of Many Ornaments In Worldwide Collection Of The Franks

LEVITTOWN, Jan. 31 — That awesome jet-black object on the corner of the roof at 61 Leisure lane is a gargoyle, that decorated a French mansion in the early 17th Century.

It started decorating the home of Ulrich Frank and his wife, Ruth, only recently, when she purchased it in a gallery in New York City, and presented it to him as a Christmas gift. The Franks are fond collectors of wood carvings and have several interesting specimens inside their home.

Gargoyles were first invented for church roofs, serving as rain spouts as well as decoration. Later they were adopted to embellish large houses. The gargoyle at the Frank's house is a large eagle, and was brought to the U. S. from France by William Randolph Hearst. Mr. Frank, covered it with a coat of creosote before mounting it above the carport.

Inside the house, Mr. and Mrs. Frank have installed a large world map, painted on burlap, on the all-purpose room wall. On the map, at their spots or origin, are mounted carvings and ancient relics from all over the world.

In the plan of China, for instance, are a ceramic hen dating from the Ming dynasty, a two-foot-high carved warrior god, and other old dieties carved in wood and jade. New Guinea and Bali are represented by artifacts made in those tropic islands.

Wood and brass figures, and a stone crocodile made in ancient times represent Africa on the Franks' map. A clay face made by Etruscan craftsmen in Italy dates from 400 A.D., while a tiny ceramic mummy dates back to the ancient glories of Egypt. A dashing caballero, carved in wood, that once decorated a theater entrance, has been attached to his native Spain.

South America, in the Franks' house, is decorated with ornaments of both Indian and Spanish design, highlighted by a wooden warrior angel that reflects both cultures. North America's space on the map is partially filled in with an Alaskan Indian mask, and carvings made by white settlers in this country.

The Franks excavated several Mexican relics themselves, on an archeological trip of their own last Summer. They uncovered dozens of attractive clay utensils in Tula, near the Tutec Pyramids, 150 miles north of Mexico City. The relics are available for a little digging. Mrs. Frank said, but apparently few Americans are willing to venture off the Pan-American highway to seek them.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank sometimes slept in their car while on their Mexican expedition, but found many suitable inexpensive hotels south of the border. Next Summer they plan to search the Laurentian Valley of Canada for more North American carvings.

A series of Articles Introducing the New Residents of Levittown to The Community.

(By Staff Reporter)

LEVITTOWN, Jan. 31—They say that when man bites dog, that's news. When bird bites dog, however, the bird is Cookie, a two-year-old talking female parakeet belonging to Benjamin G. Wasserman and his wife, Dorothy, of 40 Elm lane, and the dog is Bimi, their six-month-old brown miniature pinscher.

Cookie pecks at Bimi whenever the poor pup sits in a chair. He takes safety by jumping down, because the parakeet avoids the floor.

The Wassermans moved to Levittown Dec. 16, from Oxford Circle, Phila. He is a native of Philadelphia, and a graduate of South Phila. High School, while Mrs. Wasserman is from Atlantic City, N. J.

The Wassermans both work. He is employed by Joseph Goss & Sons, Washington, D. C., as salesman for Middle Atlantic territory, and she is a beautician at Jean Madeline's Beauty Salon, Phila.

Mr. Wasserman, an Army veteran, served in the 302nd combat engineer battalion in the South Pacific, and was in engagements at Guam, Leyte, Ie Shima and Okinawa. At Ie Shima he saw Ernie Pyle, the combat correspondent who was killed in action. Mr. Wasserman's unit buried Pyle on Ie Shima, and made a plaque for the reporter's grave.

Mr. Wasserman served in the 77th, or Statue of Liberty, Division. He still sees his old buddies at meetings of the Division's American Legion Post, in New York City.

LEVITTOWN

Arriving at 83 Friendly lane, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whisted and three children, Phila., are new residents of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and their three sons, formerly of Germantown, are living at 46 Flower lane. Mr. and Mrs. John Strathman have moved from St. Albans, N. Y., to 30 Flower lane.

Two new families residing on Grove lane are: Mr. and Mrs. John Black, 3d, and daughter, of Trenton, N. J.; and Mr. and Mrs. Clark and two children, of Altoona.

CALL MEETING FOR FEB. 9th

LEVITTOWN, Jan. 31 — All residents of the Jewish faith are urged to attend a special meeting of Levittown Jewish Sisterhood and Brotherhood, Monday, Feb. 9th, at 8 p. m., Edgely fire house. At the meeting, it will be decided whether to build a Conservative or Reform synagogue in Levittown. Rabbis of both branches of the Jewish faith will be present to answer questions, and a vote is expected to be taken.

Third Place in Race Will Be at Stake In Games Tomorrow

With third place at stake, Franklin A. C. will meet Rohm and Haas in the first game of a twin-bill tomorrow afternoon on the Rohm and Haas court. In the second encounter, Hilltop meets Pennel Aces. First game will get under way at 1:30 o'clock.

Rohm and Haas has a one-half game lead over Franklin in the Bristol Basketball League fight for third position so a Franklin triumph will put them into undisputed possession of the spot while a Rohm and Haas win will tie it for second place with the Celtics.

Franklin has won four straight since Manager Pete DeLuca strengthened his team with Grant Eckert and Bob Lattanzi. This pair will be in the lineup tomorrow along with Stan Lelinski, Jack Spencer, and Bill Curran.

Rohm and Haas also appears much stronger with Hughie Bowe in the lineup. Bowe, from St. Joseph's Prep, along with Walt Zook and Augie Everitt will give the chemical mixers a great deal of height to cope with Franklin. Pat Carnvale and Toby Oriola may be the other Rohm and Haas starters.

Hilltop A. C. will have an opportunity of moving into a deadlock for sixth place if they could beat Pennel. The latter team is in a slump and has dropped its last three games. Hilltop lost five straight before it won a game but since then has lost to Kaiser Metal, Moylan, Corduff, Schade, Richmond, and Jack Weaver will start for Hilltop with Broom, Carber, Gerst, Milnor and Billy Hibbs being the Pennel starters.

Two Lakes Here Get 22 Percent of Fish Stocked in Co.

Bensalem Faculty Defeats Varsity Team

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Jan. 31.—In one of the most thrilling games of the season last night, the Faculty defeated the Bensalem Township varsity team, 53-52, in an overtime session on the school floor.

"Lou" Benzon's foul conversion with six seconds left to play gave the teachers the victory after John Messinger had deadlocked the score at 52-52. Jack Smith had given the Bensalem team a 52-50 lead, one minute after the extra period got under way.

It was a close and hard-fought game from the start. The score was deadlocked at 5-5 but Arnold Ody broke this with a foul and then Bob Frantz put the varsity ahead with a field goal. The varsity then took a 5-point lead but at this point, Messinger entered the game and scored five consecutive points to knot the count at 13-13.

The lead changed hands several more times. The Faculty went ahead, 24-22 on Slaven's field goal but Russ Struble tied it at 24-24 and put the varsity ahead at half-time with another fielder, 26-24.

Slaven's field goal after the third quarter was under way gave the Faculty a 32-29 lead but it was tied at 36-36 on Smith's double-decker. The Faculty raised its total to 40 but a field and foul by Frantz put the varsity one point behind at the quarter, 40-39.

Ody's twin-pointer gave the Faculty a 42-39 lead but at 46, Russ Struble again tied it. Struble put the varsity in front with a fielder but Ody's foul cut the lead to 48-47. Payne dropped in a pair of fouls to put the varsity's lead to 50-47 but before the end of regulation time, Ody scored a field and foul to knot the score at 50-50.

Messinger and Ody led the winners with 21 and 15 points, respectively. Ron Elliott and Smith were high for the varsity with 14 and 11 points.

Bristol High Bows To Catholic High By the Score 69-62

TRENTON, Jan. 31.—In a well played game, Bristol High bowed to Trenton Catholic High for the second time this season last night on the latter's court. Final score was 69-62.

Unlike the first tilt played in Bristol, the Warriors gave the Golden Wave a big run for its money and surprised the fans by coming from behind in the last quarter to tie the count at 53-53. From then on, it was nip and tuck with Catholic having a slight lead until the last few seconds when two consecutive field goals boosted its margin of victory to seven points.

It was the eighth win of the season for Trenton Catholic against three losses. Bristol's mark is now 8 and 5.

Both teams were hit hard in the final quarter. Bristol lost Bob Stroble on fouls while Catholic lost both Eddie Adams and Buddy Ceremsak. Bristol's Fred Kornstedt suffered an eye injury when his glasses broke. He was treated at the St. Francis Hospital.

A poor first quarter helped to account for the Warriors' loss. In this session only six points were scored with Harold Loud and Russ Johnson getting field goals and Bob Braker two fouls. Trenton Catholic took advantage of the let-down by counting 15 points to give it a 9-point lead. Bob Stroble, Loud and Kornstedt paced the second quarter attack which saw Bristol outscore their foe, 22-18, to make it 33-28 at the half.

Catholic boosted its lead in the third quarter, principally through the shooting of Rickie Krol who connected for a quartet of field goals. Bristol was held to three fielders in this session. The final period saw Bristol stage a nice rally with Stroble connecting for 9 points before going out on personals. However, Stan Patykula was matching Stroble and also had nine points.

Patykula ended the fracas with 14 points with Ceremsak getting 13. Ceremsak had an average of 18 points per game before last night. Morris Compton delivered 11 points while Krol was high with 25. For Bristol, Stroble finished with 19 and Loud 12. Although he made but one field goal, Braker added eight fouls to give him 10 points for the night. Braker also played a fine floor game.

In the preliminary game, Trenton Catholic Junior Varsity won its eleventh straight game by overwhelming Bristol Junior Varsity, 65-33. Juniak led the winners with 15 points while Walt Bartle had 9 points for Bristol.

First, he must answer a detainer from Philadelphia County authorities which was lodged against him and lying in wait at the County Prison here yesterday.

Trooper John C. Friedrichs, Langhorne State Policeman, testified that Mager stole a check which belonged to Edwin Ludecke who lived in the same house that the defendant and his wife did. The check was a government check and U. S. Secret Service men arrested the defendant.

Mager, who has been in trouble before denied that he was arrested in connection with armed robbery in California, but admitted to District Attorney Willard S. Curtin that he stole $833 from the Western Union while carrying it to a bank. He paid it back in $2 weekly sums.

The defendant, now a foreman in an electrical department in Philadelphia, admitted he picked up Edwin Ludecke's check which was lying on a desk in a rooming house at 3242 Shelmire street, Phila.

"You really deserve a jail sentence but the Court doesn't want to be responsible for what it might do to your wife in her life and death illness," said the Court. He said he had both an honorable and dishonorable discharge from the army which no one could understand after his involved explanation.

Studebaker Unveils

roadability so characteristic of Studebaker cars.

Complementing the exciting styling changes will be the availability of mechanical power steering for the Commander series, the first time this type of power steering has been adapted for passenger car use. Power steering for the popular Champion will be offered later in the year.

Harold S. Vance, board chairman and president of Studebaker, says of the new line: "We believe we have again taken the lead in stimulating a new style trend. The advance is as definite as was that of 1946, if not more so. And again, in our opinion, the new styling is destined to play the pace-setting role for the reason that it fulfills the American automobile owner's ideas as to what the 'new look' in motor cars should be."

The hardtop convertible and 5-passenger coupe, with their dashingly lines, are lower in overall height than any other standard American-built automobile. They are a mere 56-5/16" high—less than five feet! Their over-all length is 201-15/16". Height of Champion and Commander sedans is 60 1/4". Overall length of Champion and Commander sedans is 198-9/16", and that of the Land Cruiser, 202-9/16". Rear tread width on all models has been increased from 54" to 55 1/2". Front tread width remains at 56 1/2".

In both exterior styling and interior design the 1953 Studebakers are audaciously different. Quickly catching the eye are the "cleanness" of the styling; the use of basic horizontal lines to achieve impressive new contours; the concave design motif along the sides which flows back from the forward tip of the front fenders and culminates in a back angle "rake"; the low, sweeping lines of hoods and trunk lids; the fin-type rear fenders; the unusually low silhouette of the entire car, particularly of the hardtop convertibles and coupes.

Wind noise has been practically eliminated by the overall design of the cars and the new styling of window vents.

Glass area, with attendant improved visibility in all directions, has been greatly increased on all models, ranging from a boost of 133 square inches on hardtop convertibles to an increase of 819 square inches on the Land Cruiser. The total glass area of a 4-door sedan, for example, is 33 per cent greater than on the corresponding 1952 model.

Inside the cars are innovations as lively as on the outside. Among the more prominent interior features are recessed floors and center arm rests for rear seat occupants of hardtop and coupe models, beveled instrument panels which provide more knee room, completely new instrument dials, toggle switches, and, in sedan models, dome lights located on the left side rather than at the rear so as to throw their illumination over the driver's left shoulder.

Door and side panels are trimmed with fabric and vinyl leatherette to blend with colorful new upholstery fabrics. Of the many upholstery patterns none is more colorful than the cardinal red nylon with flared antique headlining and trim in the hardtops, or the scarlet red or golden tan vinyl leatherette available at no extra cost on the same models in both the Champion and Commander series. Exterior color options include 12 different solid colors plus ten different two-tone combinations for hardtops only.

From an engineering standpoint, Studebaker's power steering will undoubtedly claim the spotlight. Developed by Borg-Warner, the new steering system represents the first adaptation of mechanical power steering for general passenger car use. It obtains its power directly from the engine and reduces by as much as 75 per cent the steering effort required by the driver. Conventional steering control is immediately available should the power steering for any reason become inoperative.

Studebaker's popular and economical 6-cylinder engine powers the Champion series while the Commander series features the sensational V-8 engine which has set outstanding performance and economy records.

Studebaker's famed "miracle" ride finds new expression in the '53 models as the result of lower centers of gravity, greater road-hugging stability, and improved weight distribution. Contributing to outstanding riding comfort and roadability are improved rear springs, shock absorbers with a new type of valving which improves cushioning action, and anti-roll sway bars.

Chassis changes on both the Champion and Commander consist for the most part of refinements and modifications, many of them occasioned by the jaunty changes in style and design.
